

OFFICE of the ATTORNEY GENERAL
GREG ABBOTT

February 18, 2003

Mr. John W. Segrest
Criminal District Attorney
McLennan County
219 North 6th Street, Suite 200
Waco, Texas 76701

OR2003-1051

Dear Mr. Segrest:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 176670.

The McLennan County Criminal District Attorney (the "district attorney") received a request for (1) all documentation regarding an alleged sexual assault of a child, to include information relating to crime victims compensation, contact with the victim's family, correspondence with other agencies, and a pre-trial hearing; (2) a statement of the general course and method by which functions of your office are channeled and determined, including the nature and requirements of formal and informal policies and procedures; (3) a rule of procedure on the handling of information involving an alleged sexual assault of a minor; and (4) all policies and procedures regarding the district attorney's requirements for the handling of case files. You state that you have no information that is responsive to item numbers 2, 3, and 4. Chapter 552 of the Government Code does not require you to release information that did not exist when you received this request or to create responsive information. See Open Records Decision Nos. 605 at 2 (1992), 452 at 3 (1986), 362 at 2 (1983). You have submitted a representative sample of information responsive to item number 1 that you claim is excepted from disclosure under sections 552.101 and 552.108 of the Government Code. We have considered the exceptions you claim and have reviewed the information you submitted.¹

¹This letter ruling assumes that the submitted representative sample of information is truly representative of the requested information as a whole. This ruling neither reaches nor authorizes the district attorney to withhold any information that is substantially different from the submitted information. See Gov't Code § 552.301(e)(1)(D); Open Records Decision Nos. 499 at 6 (1988), 497 at 4 (1988).

Section 552.101 of the Government Code excepts from public disclosure "information considered to be confidential by law, either constitutional, statutory, or by judicial decision." This exception encompasses information that another statute makes confidential. Chapter 261 of the Family Code is applicable to reports and investigations of alleged or suspected child abuse or neglect. Section 261.201 of the Family Code provides in part:

(a) The following information is confidential, is not subject to public release under Chapter 552, Government Code, and may be disclosed only for purposes consistent with this code and applicable federal or state law or under rules adopted by an investigating agency:

(1) a report of alleged or suspected abuse or neglect made under this chapter and the identity of the person making the report; and

(2) except as otherwise provided in this section, the files, reports, records, communications, audiotapes, videotapes, and working papers used or developed in an investigation under this chapter or in providing services as a result of an investigation.

Fam. Code § 261.201(a). We find that the submitted information consists of files, reports, records, communications, and working papers used or developed in an investigation made under chapter 261 of the Family Code. See also Open Records Decision No. 440 at 2 (1986) (construing predecessor statute). You do not inform us of any rule adopted by the district attorney that would permit the release of the submitted information in this instance. We therefore assume that no such rule exists. Given that assumption, we conclude that the submitted information is excepted from disclosure in its entirety under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with section 261.201 of the Family Code as information made confidential by law.² As we are able to make this determination, we need not address your other arguments against disclosure.

This letter ruling is limited to the particular records at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other records or any other circumstances.

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor. For example, governmental bodies are prohibited from asking the attorney general to reconsider this ruling. Gov't Code § 552.301(f). If the governmental body wants to challenge this ruling, the governmental body must appeal by filing suit in Travis County within 30 calendar days. Id. § 552.324(b). In order to get the full benefit of such an appeal, the governmental body must file suit within 10 calendar days.

²We note that a parent or other legal representative of a victim of alleged child abuse or neglect may be entitled to obtain portions of the requested information from the Texas Department of Protective and Regulatory Services. See Fam. Code § 261.201(g).

Id. § 552.353(b)(3), (c). If the governmental body does not appeal this ruling and the governmental body does not comply with it, then both the requestor and the attorney general have the right to file suit against the governmental body to enforce this ruling. Id. § 552.321(a).

If this ruling requires the governmental body to release all or part of the requested information, the governmental body is responsible for taking the next step. Based on the statute, the attorney general expects that, within 10 calendar days of this ruling, the governmental body will do one of the following three things: 1) release the public records; 2) notify the requestor of the exact day, time, and place that copies of the records will be provided or that the records can be inspected; or 3) notify the requestor of the governmental body's intent to challenge this letter ruling in court. If the governmental body fails to do one of these three things within 10 calendar days of this ruling, then the requestor should report that failure to the attorney general's Open Government Hotline, toll free, at 877/673-6839. The requestor may also file a complaint with the district or county attorney. Id. § 552.3215(e).

If this ruling requires or permits the governmental body to withhold all or some of the requested information, the requestor can appeal that decision by suing the governmental body. Id. § 552.321(a); Texas Department of Public Safety v. Gilbreath, 842 S.W.2d 408, 411 (Tex. App.--Austin 1992, no writ).

Please remember that under the Act the release of information triggers certain procedures for costs and charges to the requestor. If records are released in compliance with this ruling, be sure that all charges for the information are at or below the legal amounts. Questions or complaints about over-charging must be directed to Hadassah Schloss at the Texas Building and Procurement Commission at 512/475-2497.

If the governmental body, the requestor, or any other person has questions or comments about this ruling, they may contact our office. We note that a third party may challenge this ruling by filing suit seeking to withhold information from a requestor. Gov't Code § 552.325. Although there is no statutory deadline for contacting us, the attorney general prefers to receive any comments within 10 calendar days of the date of this ruling.

Sincerely,
